GOETHE UNIVERSITÄT FRANKFURT AM MAIN

The Faculty of Medicine of the Goethe University Frankfurt am Main, Institute of Midwifery Sciences invites applications for the following position as public employee starting as soon as possible:

Professor (W1, tenure-track) of Midwifery Sciences

This is a full-time, tenure-track position, initially for a 6-year term. If tenure is approved at the end of the term, the position will be made permanent and promotion to the rank of a Full Professor (W2) will be granted. This position is open to individuals in the early stages of their academic career.

The successful candidate will be responsible for direction and management of the newly established Bachelor degree program in Midwifery Sciences. The appointee's responsibilities include both research and teaching in the study program of Midwifery Sciences with special reference to interdisciplinary collaborations with neighbouring specialties and cooperative partners. In addition, participation in existing research collaborations and creation of own research projects is expected. Close collaboration with other specialties including Gynaecology and Obstetrics, Paediatrics/Neonatology/Paediatric Surgery is also required in patient care, research and teaching. Therefore, an integrative personality with interprofessional skills is expected.

A dissertation in Midwifery/Nursing Science or similar specialties is essential. Applicants must hold the professional title "Midwifery" together with multiple years of professional and management experience, preferable in Midwifery Sciences. Special focus of the newly established study program is an educational qualification for practice guidance and international collaboration in Midwifery Science. Experiences in international study courses, publications as well as clinical and non-clinical knowledge in Midwifery Sciences, and experiences in conducting and leading clinicals studies are desirable.

The formal hiring requirements are defined in sections 67, 68 and 70 of the Hessian Higher Education Act (Hessisches Hochschulgesetz).

The Goethe University is an equal opportunity employer, committed to diversity and inclusion. We are welcoming applications by qualified women and people with a migrant background. At the Goethe University, a special emphasis is placed on creating and sustaining a family-friendly work and research environment. Where applicants are otherwise equally qualified, preference is given to candidates with disabilities or equivalent. The same applies to women in fields in which they are under-represented.

To apply, please submit your application including a CV, a list of publications, an overview of your research and teaching activities as well as transcripts and a selection of recent course evaluations online at https://berufungsportal.uni-frankfurt.de by 02.06.2023. For further information, please contact Prof. Dr. Udo Rolle (udo.rolle@kgu.de). Further information about the appointment process, the legal framework, and data protection: www.professorship-vacancies.uni-frankfurt.de.