

Health Insurance
during your studies

Niklas Kniedel

Mandatory insurance from 01. Oct 2023

- o In Germany, students under the age of 30 are subject to public health insurance.

- o In Germany, students over the age of 30 are not required to have public health insurance.

Possible insurances during the studies

- German public health insurance (TK, Barmer, AOK, DAK, etc.)
- EU Insurance - EHIC (European Health Insurance Card)
- Sufficient private insurance (Benefits must be the same as public insurance - no travel medical insurance)
mainly for students over 30 years

Difference - private and public health insurance

Public:

Private:

- If you want to be privately insured, you need an exemption from public health insurance.
- The decision is valid for the whole study - only after the study a change is possible (a change back is only possible by taking up an employment relationship that is obligated to pay social security contributions)

Difference - private and public health insurance

Public:

- Unlimited insurance cover
- Pre-existing conditions also insured
- Basically everything insured what is medically necessary.
- Sufficient for visa and studies
- No advance payment necessary

Private:

- Insurance cover partly limited
- Pre-existing conditions often excluded
- Travel insurances or partial private insurances often not sufficient.
- Advance payment for treatments
- often limited in time. An extension is not guaranteed.

Electronic reporting system

- Please note that each student must send an electronic notification to Goethe University in order to complete the enrollment process
- The M10 notification replaces the paper form between the university and the health insurance company
- The M10 confirms your insurance status
- TK can send the M10 report for you.
- For more information, just ask.

Public Health Insurance in Germany

Advantages at a glance:

- pre-existing conditions are also insured
- unlimited insurance coverage
- payment of doctor/hospital costs with the insurance card
- Sufficient insurance coverage for visa extension
- Sufficient insurance coverage for studying in Germany
- Insurance coverage also in the EU area.

- Contribution: about 120-125 Euro/month
