

Goethe University Frankfurt am Main invites applications for the position of

Professor (W2) of education with a focus on elementary education and science education

Institute of Elementary and Primary Education at the Faculty of Educational Sciences. This civil servant or public employee position will start 01.10.2024.

The successful candidate represents the subject of educational science with a focus on elementary school pedagogy and science education (GER: Sachunterricht) in its entire breadth in research and teaching. He or she is a researcher of outstanding expertise in the empirical and theoretical field of elementary school pedagogy and science education including evidence of the successful acquisition of external funding. We expect the willingness to participate in research projects at the Institute for Elementary and Primary Education as well as for qualitative and/or quantitative research in the domains of education for sustainable development, and/or digitalization or related to inclusive education. The Institute for Elementary and Primary Education offers courses in teacher education programs, in particular the elementary school teacher education program (L 1), and in the Bachelor's/Master's degree programs in educational science. The future position holder is expected to offer classes in the elective module of science education of the L1 teacher education program, as well as in educational sciences and the Bachelor and Master programs in educational science. In the area of science education, collaboration with other subject didactics involved is expected.

Applicants are required to have acquired an outstanding doctorate as well as a habilitation or a habilitation-equivalent achievement in educational science or related disciplines. We further encourage the collaboration with the Center for Diversity and Instructional Development at the Department of Education.

Because the professorship is involved in teacher training, candidates are required to have specific experience in this area and should be willing to participate in interdisciplinary initiatives in the field of empirical educational research.

The formal hiring requirements are defined in sections 67, and 68 of the Hessian Higher Education Act (Hessisches Hochschulgesetz).

Goethe University is an equal opportunity employer, committed to diversity and inclusion. In particular, we are welcoming applications by qualified women and people with a migrant background. At Goethe University, a special emphasis is placed on creating and sustaining a family-friendly work and research environment. Where applicants are otherwise equally qualified, preference is given to candidates with disabilities or equivalent. The same applies to women in fields in which they are under-represented.

To apply, please send a CV, a list of publications, an overview of your research and teaching activities as well as transcripts and a selection of recent course evaluations as a single PDF document by 1 December 2023 to bewerbungFB04@dist.server.uni-frankfurt.de. If you have any questions, please contact Prof. Dr. Ilonca Hardy at hardy@em.uni-frankfurt.de. Further information about the appointment process, the legal framework and data protection: www.vakante-professuren.uni-frankfurt.de.