Goethe University Frankfurt am Main invites applications for the position of Professor (W3) for Public Law with a focus on Administrative Law, in particular the Law of Digitalization or Environmental Law in the Institute of Public Law at the Faculty of Law. This civil servant or public employee position will start as soon as possible.

An academic record in the core areas of public law with a focus on administrative law is expected. Likewise, we expect a willingness to participate in the teaching of the core curriculum of public law and in the specialized area “Constitution, Administration and Regulation”. The research profile should show a clear focus of interest in the law of digitalization or environmental law. This can be demonstrated not only by relevant experience and research achievements but also by a well-founded research and teaching concept. In addition, active academic networking both within the university and with related research institutions outside the university is expected, as is the acquisition of third-party funding. If applicable, the willingness to lead the Data Protection Research Center at the Law Faculty at Goethe University is expected.

The formal hiring requirements are defined in sections 67 and 68 of the Hessian Higher Education Act (Hessisches Hochschulgesetz).

Goethe University is an equal opportunity employer, committed to diversity and inclusion. In particular we are welcoming applications by qualified women and people with a migrant background. At Goethe University, a special emphasis is placed on creating and sustaining a family-friendly work and research environment. Where applicants otherwise equally qualified, preference is given to candidates with disabilities or equivalent. The same applies to women in fields in which they are under-represented.

To apply, please send a CV, a list of publications, an overview of research and teaching activities, transcripts and a selection of recent course evaluations and, if applicable, a research and teaching concept for the design of the position online at http://berufungsportal.uni-frankfurt.de by 18 July 2024. If you have any questions, please contact the Dean of the Faculty of Law, Prof. Dr. Stefan Kadelbach: pelster@jur.uni-frankfurt.de.
