

Workshop

Narrative and physiological regulation of intense negative emotions

June 17-20 2014

Goethe University Frankfurt, Campus Westend
PEG (6th floor) 5G202 (Thur) and 5G056 (Wedn/Fri)
Organized by Wendy d'Andrea (NSSR) & Tilmann Habermas (GU)

Tuesday, June 17

6:15-7:45 pm 5G202

Wendy D'Andrea

New School for Social Research, NYC

Freeze: Documenting the biology of trauma-related dissociation, and measuring the process of coming to life

Wednesday, June 18, afternoon, 5G056

2:15 pm Tilmann Habermas (GU)

Welcome & The psychopathology of narrative

2:45 Sarah Herzog (NSSR)

Approach/avoidance and trauma-related cognitions

3:15 Stephanie Schiffler (NSSR)

Trauma, self-states, and the disruption of impulse control.

3:45 ---- Coffee break ----

4:15 Treva van Cleave (NSSR)

Traumatic narratives and the disruption of interoceptive processes.

4:45 Barbara Maier (GU)

Fear and anger narratives

5:15 Josefine Förster & Karin Lingg (GU)

Narrative perspectives influence sad and angry listener emotions

5:45 General Discussion

Thursday, June 19, 5G202

9:30 Susanne Döll-Hentschker (GU)

Dreaming as emotion regulation

10:00 Erica Gardener-Schuster (NSSR)

Psychophysiology and treatment process

10:30 ---- Coffee break ----

10:45 Alice Graneist (GU)

Co-narrative emotion regulation between mothers and their adolescent offspring

11:15 Data session (GU):

Co-narrative emotion regulation

12:30 ---- Lunch break ----

2:15 Wendy D'Andrea

Introduction to psychophysiology of emotions

2:45 Measurement session (NSSR)

Demonstration of psychophysiological measurement methods

3:15 Data session (NSSR)

Adult Attachment Interview with psychophysiology

4:00 ---- Coffee break ----

4:30 Data session continued (NSSR)

6:00 End

Friday, June 20, 5G056

9:30 Data session (NSSR)

Cotinuation of session on AAI

10:00 Data Session (GU)

An initial psychotherapy interview

12:00 ---- Coffee break ----

12:30 1:30 All speakers

Perspectives for future co-operations

